Orchestra Concert Honors Narberth

Critics Praise Main Line Musicians' Work

Narberth's prestige in Main Line musical circles was more firmly established than ever before Sunday, in the third concert of this season, given by the Main Line Orchestra last Sunday afternoon.

An audience which taxed the capacity of the theatre greeted the orchestra. The program, which varied from Clay's "Gipsy John" to Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," was featured by the finished playing of the orchestra and the skillful leadership of the ever-graceful conductor, Adolph Vogel, cellist of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

William Burton Piersol, Narberth baritone, was the soloist. He sang first the prologue from Pagliacci, then Clay's "Gipsy John," and concluded with "Rolling Down to Rio." All of his solos were with orchestra accompaniment.

The large attendance and the generous applause showed the enthusiasm with which the music lovers of the Main Line received the concert. Samuel L. Lacier, prominent Philadelphia music critic, in commenting on the concert said:

"As in the two previous concerts, the orchestra played admirably, when the difficulty of the program selected by Conductor Adolph Vogel is considered. The chief numbers came first, Goldmark's 'Sakuntala' overture, and the first movement of Schubert's 'Unfinished' symphony. This is good program-making but risky for an amateur orchestra, whose intonation invariably improves as a concert progresses.

"Sunday's experience was no exception to this rule. Both Goldmark and Schubert use remote and difficult keys in which the non-professional player, no matter how good, is never entirely at ease. But in the second part of the concert the intermezzo from 'Naila' and the two Hungarian dances of Brahms, perhaps technically more difficult, were played in much better tune. All through the program the orchestra played with splendid spirit and excellent dynamic effects, and at times reached a high level of performance. Some of the essential instruments are lacking, it is true, but this was skillfully covered by some very clever reinstrumentation. A feature of the orchestral numbers was Schubert's 'Ave Maria,' in which the solo trumpet part was finely played by Frederic C. Patten, first trumpet of the orchestra.

"The soloist was W. Burton Piersol, baritone, who sang first the Prologue from 'Pagliacci' and later two songs, all with orchestral accompaniment. Mr. Piersol was in excellent voice, especially in the Prologue, with its great demands of range and color, and he was received with deserved enthusiasm by the audience. One of the best features of the concert was the amazingly fine rendition of the exceedingly difficult orchestral accompaniment to the Prologue."

Adolph Vogel, who resides on Avon Road, not only has built up this remarkable amateur orchestra, but is Director of the Main Line School of Music, a member of the Philadelphia Orchestra and plays with the Philharmonic Society and the Lemon Hill Orchestra.

VICTOR LECTURE BUREAU

Nearly all the Community Club members enjoy the Victor programs over the radio. On Tuesday, April 14, they may hear a fine Victor program without any radio or any "interference."

Miss Mabel Rich, of the Victor Lecture Bureau, will give the story of the opera "Aida," with musical illustrations. Musical critics speak very highly of Miss Rich's lecture.

Mrs. S. Z. Shope will give an account of the Monday conference.

Let us have the biggest attendance on record!

School of Firemanship is Being Held Here

Narberth Company Holding Exhaustive Drills in Speed and Efficiency

Occasionally in the evening the intermittent tap of a fire gong is heard on the streets, or a passerby sees a man rapidly scaling a ladder placed against the side of an apparently un-ignited Y. M. C. A. building.

"Where's the fire?" is asked, to which the well-informed Narberthian replies: "There aint none; they're drillin'."

Which explanation conveys more significance to the local householder than may appear. For the Narberth firemen are drilling—have been for months—with a view to making the borough company the model of suburban outfits in efficiency and speed.

It all started last year, when the department was organized on new lines, to meet the wishes of the Philadelphia Suburban Underwriters. The Underwriters made many suggestions to Council of means by which the insurance rate in the borough could be lowered to the minimum figure; among this list was the stipulation that regular drills be held.

That requirement could have been met in a perfunctory manner, but that has never been a part of the Narberth company's way of doing things. Chief Noel immediately made arrangements to secure the service of a competent instructor, and the weekly drills were made into a complete course in intensive fire-fighting.

Lieutenant William P. Reed, in charge of the Central Fire Station in Philadelphia was secured as instructor, and under his tutelage the entire subject of firemanship is being covered.

Remarkable Speedy Obtained.

The practice involves work in hose laying, ladder work, handling of the trucks, etc. The men are being thoroughly familiarized with Narberth's growing equipment.

An example of the speed and efficiency obtained was shown last week. A crew of eight men put up a ladder, connected a hose to the plug, installed the "Siamese" two-way connection and both lines, attached all necessary nozzles and equipment, carried one line up a 20-foot ladder, hooked the ladder strap, brought the chemical line into service—in short got everything ready for service, in a total time of 70 seconds.

And that, even for a paid company, would be an achievement.

Of the 30 active firemen, about 20 turn out for each drill, and in addition, instruction is given the men on the waiting-list for places in the crew. In addition to the hose work particular emphasis is laid on the handling of the ladders, including proper methods of scaling while carrying a hose line, axe, roof hooks, or similar piece of equipment.

The firemen have been practicing rescue work by carrying each other down the ladders. Lieutenant Reed has promised to bring his daughter with him to the next drill as a subject for rescue practice. From present indications there will be an attendance of 100 per cent. at that drill.

A Perfect Record.

These drills are destined to place Narberth at the very pinnacle in fire protection. So far, in the history of the company, they have never "lost" a fire in the borough, and, in fact, have never had an outside fire get away from them if an alarm had been turned in at once.

This perfect record has been due to the fact that the active members have made a hobby of their work in the company. Chief Charles V. Noel has had fire-fighting as an avocation nearly all his life, and has been with the local company for 21 years.

All of the leaders, during their spare time, have studied the subject by going to different companies in Philadelphia, learning the newest methods from the paid firemen. Deputy Chief Ed. Wipf has 21 years service to his credit in the local outfit; assistants John A. Miller, Charles Young and Taylor Henry have been on the job over 15 years. Many of the volunteers have ten to 20 years of service to their credit.

The trucks are manned by expert drivers: Ray Weiss, Earl Mecke and Joe Maguire. The proper handling of the apparatus on the streets has been a part of the weekly drilling.

League Under Way For 1925

Preliminary Meeting Held This Week

Five clubs, two old and three new ones were present at the first meeting of the season of the Main Line Baseball League held in the Borough Hall, Narberth, Monday evening.

The two old clubs were Narberth, represented by Charles Harnden and League President, Robert J. Edgar, and Oakmont, represented by Jim Nunan. The new entries were the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club, represented by Messrs. James E. Hammer and Paul S. Rattle; Gladwyne, represented by George Nelings, last year's manager of Bala-Cynwyd, and Doyle's Nursery of Berwyn.

Preliminary plans for the organization of the League for the coming season which begins the third week in May were discussed but no definite decisions were formed. These will be made at the first regular meeting of the League, which will be held in the office of Robert J. Nash, Narberth Station, 8.30 P. M. sharp, Monday night.

LEAGUE TO MEET

On Monday, April 13, at 2.30 P. M., in the Y. M. C. A., will be held the monthly meeting of the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Harrie Reed, of Haverford, a member of the Good Homes Association, which is responsible for the development of a modern and model community at Garrett Hill near Rosemont, will be the principal speaker. Models of the type of homes being erected in this development for good homes within the scope of the moderate purse will be exhibited. Since there is a national move for better homes this is a pertinent subject for discussion at this time.

Miss Anna MacKeag, legislative delegate from Montgomery County to Harrisburg, will report on the sessions she attended.

Other important legislation to date will be analyzed by a member of the League.

Members are urgently requested to attend and bring their friends and extend a cordial welcome to the speaker of the day, who is giving so generously her time.

The spring luncheon of the County League will be held on April 30 at the Merion Cricket Club. Reservation should be made promptly in order to secure an advantageous location in the dining-room. Luncheon tickets, $1.25.

Mr. McDonald, who was the speaker at the spring luncheon last year, will again address, by request, this annual meeting.

Mrs. John O. Miller, State Chairman, will also speak.

HURT BY SPINNING DOOR

Mrs. Edward Hopkins, of 101 Merion avenue, was painfully injured Wednesday night when she was struck and thrown from her feet by a revolving restaurant door.

The accident occurred at 1508 Market street, Philadelphia. As Mrs. Hopkins, who is seventy years of age, was leaving the restaurant, the door was violently pushed by some over-hasty diner, and she was thrown across the pavement, falling with considerable force in the gutter.

It was found that she had suffered a broken hip and severe bruises; she is also suffering from shock, and because of her advanced age, is in a serious condition at the Jefferson Hospital.

Mrs. Hopkins has been making her home with her son, Mr. George A. Hopkins, on Merion avenue. At her home it was learned that her neck had not been broken, as stated in the city papers but that she is nevertheless in a very critical condition.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION FORMED

A permanent Library Association, independent of the Women's Community Club, was formed Thursday night in a meeting held at the Y. M. C. A.

CLEAN-UP POSTPONED

Burgess Metzger has announced that the date for Clean-Up Week has been postponed from the week of April 12 to that of May 4.

The original plan had been to have the Narberth clean-up coincide with National Clean-Up Week, but it is felt that spring house-cleaning has not progressed far enough to warrant the early date.

Experience has shown that when the date is set too early the task is extended over many weeks instead of an intensive drive, as is desired. "Our Town" will publish full details later.

Junior Show Wins Dramatic Laurels

"Billy" Praised as Best Performance Ever

"The best thing ever given in Elm Hall!" This and similar statements were heard on every side as the audience returned from the sea voyage with "Billy" and filed from Borough Hall, last Saturday evening. When we say audience we do so advisedly, inasmuch as the majority of the people present stayed to dance to the snappy strains of the four-piece orchestra.

Those who remained were even more enthusiastic and the juniors were almost overwhelmed with glowing tributes to their characterizations of the various parts, the staging and the all-around cleverness of the comedy.

With an all-star cast, it is difficult to pick individuals as outstanding parts of the whole. It is safe to say, however, that the comedy hits of the evening were Marion Haws Cook, as the hopeless and toothless hero "Billy," Hargrave and his long suffering and "theusless" sister Alice, impersonated by Mary Digby. Mary Davis made a charming and unaffected heroine and Kay Eckbert, as Sam Eustis, Billy's deadly rival, was fully qualified to out shiek Rudolph himself. Dorothy Wilson and Mary Chalfant increased miraculously in years over night, and gave splendid characterizations as the mothers of the hero and heroine. Peg Eckbert, in the two roles of John Hargrave and the captain, Margaret Livingston as the doctor, Jeannette Gillis and Ruth Haws Cook as two of the crew, Helen Caldwell as the steward and Marion Trotter as the stewardess rounded out the cast with well-balanced performances.

The sweet voice of Evelyn Patten was heard to good advantage in seven tuneful numbers and the "peppy" chorus showed their careful training under Miss Marjorie Carter to such good advantage that encores were repeatedly called for. The ladies and jack tars of the chorus were:

Sailors—Elizabeth England, Emily Needham, Louise England, Verna Maltby, Ruth Jones, Grace Smith.

Dancers—Louise Freena, Marie Miesen, Eleanor Fittipoldi, Betty Henry, Dorothy Digby, Lillian La Boube.

The club at this time wishes to publicly thank those tireless workers who gave of their best that the juniors might have another success in the dramatic field laurels: Mrs. Kathleen McConnell, coach; Mrs. Madeline McCoy, accompanist; Marjorie Carter, director of the dancing, and her assistant, Mrs. Margaret Derby.

LAMON—HOUSEKEEPER

The marriage of Miss Alma Housekeeper to Mr. George Marshall Lamon took place last Saturday.

The bride, who resides on Gulph road, is a former resident of Narberth and is employed at the store of Mr. Howard F. Cotter. Mr. Lamon is a resident of Conshohocken and is scoutmaster of the Boy Scout troop there. The wedding took place at his home.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Elvira Crumen, of Iona avenue. After the ceremony the couple left for Atlantic City for their honeymoon. On their return they will live in Conshohocken. Mrs. Lamon plans to continue in her position at the Cotter store for the present.

The bearded lady of Ringling Bros.' Circus recently died on Staten Island, leaving a wife and five children.

Main Line Singers Announce Program

Choral Concert Coming on April 23rd

The Main Line Choral, under the direction of William P. Bentz, will give its spring concert on Thursday evening, April 23, in the auditorium of the Women's Club, Ardmore avenue, Ardmore. This Choral, numbering approximately 50 voices, is the result of a combination of the several choruses along the Main Line. These singers have set a high standard for themselves, and it is their aim to give to the people of the Main Line from time to time some of the finer compositions in the field of choral music, and their work is almost entirely a cappella, which is in itself a considerable undertaking. Mr. Bentz has planned a very interesting and varied program, and from the list of composers which are represented this concert should be looked forward to with keen interest by the music lovers of this section, and the efforts of the organization should be encouraged and supported, as it bids fair to become a worthy companion to the Main Line Orchestra, of which we are all so proud.

The assisting soloists at this concert will be the Misses Irene and Blanche Hubbard, cellist and harpiste, whose artistic work is well known in musical circles. Both girls, although still quite young, are artists in their respective fields.

The Choral's program, a la Cappella with the exception of one number, will cover a wide range of period music and folk songs, as follows:

Choral: "Break Forth Oh Beautiful Heavenly Light," John Seb. Bach; "Hymn to the Virgin," XIV Century Melody; "Glory Be to God," Rachmaninoff; "The Wind," M. H. Carroll; "Celtic Hymn," Hugh S. Robertson; "The Swing," Selim Palmgren; "Quick, We Have But a Second," C. Villiers Stanford.

Four Folk Songs: "The Spell of the Forest" (Russian), Rimsky-Korsakoff; "Farewell to Cucullain," Old Irish; "Milking Song" (Scotch), Granville Bantock; "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," Negro Spiritual; "Bedouin Love Song," John Hyatt Brewer.

In addition to this there will be three groups for cello and harp.

Reserved seat tickets are $1 and the remainder of seats will be 50 cents.

LEGION SHOW PROGRESSING

A very successful rehearsal for the "Legion Follies of 1925" was held last Tuesday night.

More interest has been evidenced in this show, by the Legion members than in any previous Legion show, due in part to the new lease of life which is prevalent in the Legion, and to the fact that 25 per cent. of the proceeds of the show go to welfare work among disabled veterans.

There has been some confusion as to the date on which the show would be staged, due to an error in the first date allotted to the Legion for the show. This show will be staged two night, April 24 and 25, at Elm Hall. Tickets are on sale now, and from the reports received to date, the hall should be filled both nights.

Mr. Harry Simpson is in charge of the sale of tickets and has distributed them to nearly all the members. They will also be on sale in most of the stores in Narberth, so that anyone wishing to help disabled veterans will have an opportunity to do so.

Don't forget the dates, April 24 and 25, and the purpose, to help disabled veterans.

BENEFIT SHOW

For the benefit of the Devon Rummage sale there will be a special showing of "The Arab," (Rex Ingram Production, Wednesday matinee and Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the Wayne Theatre.

Tickets, 50 cents, are on sale at the theatre or may be secured from Mrs. Robert Town, 13 Beechwood Lane. Phone, Narberth 1234-J.

The proceeds are for the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

A SPRING SONG

Some birds and some editors never go to bed, it seems. Tonight, well after the witching hour, a killdeer is flying overhead, crying shrilly. This plover, resident of our fields, has been back from the South for some weeks, but his midnight serenade reminds one again that spring is here.

If you do not believe it, walk down Haverford avenue and look in the windows. Bird houses, bone meal, garden implements, seeds, hose (garden and personal), house-cleaning paraphernalia, articles beyond mention await buyers and users.

"Our Town" will join the group next week by the establishment of a garden column, from the pen of a local authority on growing things. This department has been run from time to time in the past, but it will now be established as a regular feature, with the addition of a questions-and-answers department.

It is hoped that this column will be of constant value to our readers, and they are invited to use it as a medium for the asking of questions and the exchange of information.

WEEKLY DRILLS ARE BEING MAINTAINED

A regular paid fireman, George Gillespie, is on duty at the fire house during the day. Gillespie has been with the company 20 years. His appointment came as the result of the growing need for 24-hour attention to calls. Considerable criticism arose after a long delay was experienced in receiving a call to a fire at the home of Mr. L. H. Trotter last year. It was shown that speed in manning the equipment meant little, if the phone was not answered, and the addition to the force was made.

After Excitement Hounds.

Narberth and Lower Merion are now making a drive on the auto pests who impede the firemen. At a fire in Fairview on Wednesday, 42 motorists were arrested and brought before Magistrate Stillwagon, at Ardmore. There is a law prohibiting a car to follow or race an engine, or to park within a thousand feet of the fire.

This is the season for field fires. Three were quenched this week. On Tuesday the company was called to St. Charles Borromeo Seminary; on Wednesday to the Scott Farm in Fairview, and on Thursday afternoon to a blaze on the playground.

Chief Noel has warned the residents against leaving grass fires at this time of the year without putting them out, or of lighting fields on windy days. Not only is it dangerous to property, but the volunteers must drop their business to put out the blazes, resulting in needless expense to both the company and the men.

Just staying "Put" helps, but it don't help enough.

This is an age of competition and you can't stand still or you will eventually be crowded out.

Have you noticed how we are growing regardless of more competition?

If you don't come in, just look in. You will notice, as large as our store room, we seem crowded for space—more customers and more clerks to wait on them. We see new faces every week among our customers, and we feel that Narberth appreciates our efforts to serve them economically and well.

You make us happy by keeping us busy.

COTTER'S MARKET

COMPETITION—Good, clean-cut, fair competition is one of the most wholesome, inspiring and enlivening things with which the energetic grocer, or any business man, may be blessed. The manly man accepts competition as an evidence that he has something the other fellow is willing to fight for, and how you regard your competitor is a pretty good measure of your own caliber and ability. If competition inspires and incites you, then it is truly "the life of trade." If it irritates you and seems to injure you, you had better look into your own methods and see if they are sound and in accord with modern business ethics and business practices. Some one has said, "even tramps get so numerous that they have competition, and competition is good for tramps—it keeps them moving." If it becomes necessary for tramps to keep on the move, how much more useful it may be for the retail grocer to move along with the times rather than lag behind them, for there is probably no one thing that will spur a man on to work and effort more than competition.
